Dear Friends,

December 2014

Thank you so much for making our children's day celebration a ballast for our students. They had fun filled day on 14th November, and special excursion to Red fort and Nehru museum. They enjoyed their time with their peers on 16th November 2014. Our these two events of children's day was educational and historical event for them!

Why Be Thankful?

Gratitude unlocks the fullness of life. It turns what we have into enough, and more. It turns denial into acceptance, chaos to order, confusion to clarity. It can turn a meal into a feast, a house into a home, a stranger into a friend. Gratitude makes sense of our past, brings peace for today, and creates a vision for tomorrow----
Melody Beattie

It's so easy for us to be grateful when everything's going our way, but it becomes difficult to maintain that attitude when the road gets rough, when a loved one dies, when we become ill, or when financial reverses strike. We need to have a thankful spirit even in times of trial, confident that God has promised to be with us always and never to leave us or forsake us.

Closely intertwined with an attitude of gratitude should be one of praise---praise to God because of who he is and because of all he has done for us.

Why is it important to praise God? All the praise in the world will not change him in any way. Instead, praising God change us.

Another word for praise that's often used in scripture is "magnify" If you were to look at the words on this page through a magnifying glass, it would not change their size, shape, or meaning in any way. All that would change would be your perception, and the words would appear larger and clearer.

So it is when you praise or magnify God. He isn't changed, but your perception of him is--you see him in a new light, from a new perspective, and more clearly.
